

Call for Action

Sept. 2, 2007

Dear comrades in Jesus Christ

I hope you are well.

As you know Burma is crying out freedom again. I wish we can do something to join in with the force. I want the people of the Church to do something. So far churches in here don't get it that it is also our duty to participate in issues of freedom and liberation. My concern is that more and more people leave the camp for some third countries(while me, on the other hand still have a hope) losing hope in our cause of freedom and democracy in Burma. I still believe the oppressed themselves are to be inspiration and example in the struggle for their own salvation. I advocate we do something to make sure they want what they need.

Can we do something about it as the Church of Jesus Christ? Other humanitarian have already for us and i want the church to do it with us.

Please mobilize on this.

Sincerely yours.

Wado
